

Dear FCC,

I am a graduate student working towards my Ph.D. I do my research and writing at my home. Thus it is absolutely essential that I do not receive unwanted calls. My productivity has increased tremendously since Indiana enacted its Do-Not-Call List. I would consider it a serious setback for my rights to lose the choice of opting out of unsolicited phone calls.

Sincerely,
Christopher Sapp